CAREER SERVICES

Career Services provides support and resources for PhD and master's degree students. Career Advisors are happy to work with students on all aspects of their career exploration and planning at any time during their academic programs, and there are many career-relevant steps that students can take in their first years. With access to the student/employer engagement platform called “Handshake (https://www.vpul.upenn.edu/careerservices/handshake/),” students can search for jobs and internships across industries, search and register for upcoming career workshops/programs, career fairs, and employer information sessions, and schedule 1-on-1 or group appointments with advisors at Career Services. Graduate students are encouraged to set up a time to meet with a career advisor to get any of their career questions answered, or to discuss the types of questions they should be asking in order to maximize their career readiness by the time of their graduation. All career appointments and walk-ins are entirely confidential.
