Center for Programs in Contemporary Writing (<http://www.writing.upenn.edu/>)

The Center for Programs in Contemporary Writing (<http://www.writing.upenn.edu/>) (CPCW) brings together all of Penn's writing programs, entities, and projects to form a collaborative whole. The Center presents writing courses, workshops and a reading circle. In addition, it offers students an opportunity to perform their writing or to become involved as a tutor, mentor or editorial apprentice.

College Houses and Academic Services (<http://www.collegehouses.upenn.edu/>)

The eleven College Houses bring together undergraduates, faculty, staff, and graduate students to form vibrant residential communities within the larger context of our renowned urban campus, right in the heart of historic Philadelphia.

Each House has a Faculty Director, one or more Fellows, a House Dean, a House Coordinator, a plentiful staff of student Residential Advisors (RAs) and Graduate Associates (GAs), student Information Technology Advisors (ITAs), and many student managers in key positions.

Open to all Penn students, House tutoring sessions in math, chemistry, and economics are free and require no advance sign-up. For more information on tutoring within the Houses, visit: <http://www.collegehouses.upenn.edu/life/tutoring> (<http://www.collegehouses.upenn.edu/life/tutoring/>).

Communication within the Curriculum (<https://cwic.sas.upenn.edu/>)

Communication Within the Curriculum (CWIC)'s (<https://cwic.sas.upenn.edu/>) undergraduate speaking advisors help students develop their public speaking skills through workshops and one-on-one advising sessions during walk-in hours. CWiC also offers two critical speaking seminars and a number of affiliate courses.

Penn College Achievement Program (PENNCAP) (<https://penncap.vpse.upenn.edu/>)

The Penn College Achievement Program (<https://penncap.vpse.upenn.edu/>) works closely with a diverse group of students, many from lower-income and/or first-generation (<http://www.vpul.upenn.edu/Low-IncomeFirst-GenerationStudents/>) backgrounds, to support their success at Penn. Among the many services offered are laptop and textbook loans, summer tuition grants, tutoring and advising.

Tutoring Center (<http://www.vpul.upenn.edu/tutoring/>)

The Tutoring Center (<http://www.vpul.upenn.edu/tutoring/>) offers Penn undergraduates a wide variety of free, accessible, and convenient options to supplement their academic experience.

Weingarten Learning Resources Center (<http://www.vpul.upenn.edu/lrc/>)

The Weingarten Center provides academic support services and programs for undergraduate, graduate, and professional students at the University of Pennsylvania through its two offices. The services and programs of both offices are free and confidential.

Office of Learning Resources (<http://www.vpul.upenn.edu/lrc/lr/>)

The Office of Learning Resources (<http://www.vpul.upenn.edu/lrc/lr/>) staff provide a wide range of programming and professional consultation services in university-relevant skills such as reading, writing, study strategies, and time management.

Student Disabilities Services (<https://wlrc.vpul.upenn.edu/sds/>)

Student Disabilities Services (<https://wlrc.vpul.upenn.edu/sds/>) staff work closely with students who self-identify with disabilities in order to ensure equal access to all University programs, activities and services.
