

ACADEMIC STANDING

The University of Pennsylvania expects students to maintain a minimum level of academic performance or risk being placed on Academic Probation. The requirements for good academic standing vary by school; students enrolled in more than one undergraduate school are subject to the academic standing policies of both schools.

The requirements for good academic standing are:

- College of Arts and Sciences (<https://www.college.upenn.edu/academic-standing/>)
- School of Engineering and Applied Science (<http://www.seas.upenn.edu/undergraduate/handbook/policy/academic-performance.php>)
- School of Nursing (<http://www.nursing.upenn.edu/student-services/resources/handbooks-forms-policies/bsn-handbook/academic-regulations/#Academic%20Standing>)
- The Wharton School (<https://undergrad-inside.wharton.upenn.edu/academic-standing/>)