

EAST CENTRAL EUROPEAN STUDIES, MINOR

The Minor program in East Central European Studies offers students the opportunity for the interdisciplinary study of the language, history, politics, literature, and culture of Eastern and Central Europe. The minor requires a total of six courses (6 CU) beyond the language requirement (two semesters), which students can satisfy by choosing any regional language currently offered at Penn (i.e. Bosnian/Croatian/Serbian, Hungarian, Polish, Ukrainian, Yiddish), by completing language coursework through a study abroad program, or by demonstrating equivalent proficiency.
