

ENGLISH: LITERATURE, JOURNALISM AND PRINT CULTURE, BA

Students deciding to pursue English at Penn study language, literature, literary history and theories of literary production in a thirteen-course major of flexible design. While completing the language and literature requirement and the five required courses in the literary historical "core," majors also pursue their own special literary interests in six-course concentrations of their own choosing. English offers more than twenty distinct concentrations, including several options for creative writers.

The minimum total course units (<https://www.college.upenn.edu/credits-needed-major>) for graduation in this major is 33. Double majors may entail more course units.
