

MODERN MIDDLE EASTERN STUDIES, MINOR

The interdisciplinary Modern Middle Eastern Studies degree is designed to allow students to specialize in the Middle East as a region of the world and human experience by combining course work using both social scientific and humanistic approaches, underpinned by relevant language skills. Students will work with faculty committed to supporting interdisciplinary, applied, research-oriented advanced study. The minor gives students opportunities to work on problems of politics, policy, history, ideology, social thought, economic development, and international relations.

For more information: <https://www.sas.upenn.edu/mec/programs/mmes>

Code	Title	Course Units
Minor Requirements
Humanities
	Select 2 course units of Humanities courses	2
Social Sciences
	Select 2 course units of Social Sciences courses	2
Electives
	Select 2 course units of Electives ¹	2
Total Course Units		6

¹ May include two language courses - in a single language.

The degree and major requirements displayed are intended as a guide for students entering in the Fall of 2018 and later. Students should consult with their academic program regarding final certifications and requirements for graduation.
