

POLITICAL SCIENCE, MINOR

---

The Political Science Department's course offerings span the discipline of political science, from American political institutions, to the politics of world regions, the emergence of a new international order, and recent and ancient political ideas. The Department's curriculum is divided into the four standard fields of American politics, comparative politics, international relations, and political theories. There are also other opportunities for study in political processes of elections and communications and public policy. A minor involves one introductory political science course and five political science electives.

For more information: <http://www.sas.upenn.edu/polisci/node/867>
(<http://www.sas.upenn.edu/polisci/node/867/>)

| Code                                      | Title   | Course Units |
|---|---|--------------|
| Minor Requirements <sup>1</sup>    |   |              |
| Political Science Core Requirement |   |              |
| Select one of the following:              |   | 1            |
| PSCI 0100                                 | Introduction to Comparative Politicsor PSCI 0101 Comparative Politics of Developing Areas |              |
| PSCI 0200                                 | Introduction to American Politics   |              |
| PSCI 0400                                 | Introduction to International Relations   |              |
| PSCI 0600                                 | Ancient Political Thoughtor PSCI 0601 Modern Political Thought                            |              |
| Other Requirements                 |   |              |
| Select 5 course units of PSCI courses     |   | 5            |
| Total Course Units                 |   | 6     |

<sup>1</sup> 4 course units must be taken in PSCI Dept at U of P.

---

The degree and major requirements displayed are intended as a guide for students entering in the Fall of 2023 and later. Students should consult with their academic program regarding final certifications and requirements for graduation.

---